

Shownotes Episode 000

Welcome to the Bee High on Life Podcast, the podcast dedicated to women ready to live a life of joy and success. I'm Kelly Renee' Baker and I believe that if you desire to overcome adversity in life you will find the joy, peace and abundance God intends for you . The BHLP will not only help you overcome but also transform from strongholds to a life of significance, success, and sensational living.

Each week I will chat about life, living, God, relationships and all things women. Each month I will also interview an author, influencer or other person of interest to the world of Christian women. I love to pursue unique insights on Womanhood, Motherhood, singlehood, relationships, dating, God, spirituality, Personal and Professional Development, Leadership, Productivity, Careers, and Entrepreneurship and much, much, much more.
